

TAIWAN FOUNDATION
for DEMOCRACY
財團法人臺灣民主基金會

106 台北市信義路三段 147 巷 17 弄 4 號

電話：2708-0100

傳真：2708-1148

tfd@taiwandemocracy.org.tw

Anything but Shock Therapy: Comparing Democratic Transition and Consolidation in Mexico and Taiwan

Presentation by TFD International Visiting Fellow
Mr. Arturo Lopez-Levy 羅利未, PhD candidate, Josef Korbel School of International Studies, University of Denver

Date: Tuesday, December 08, 2009
Time: 10:00 – 12:00
Location: Taiwan Foundation for Democracy (No 4, Alley 17, Lane 147, Xinyi Rd Sec 3, Taipei 106 Taiwan)
Moderator: Dr. Eric Yu 俞振華 Assistant Research Fellow
Election Studies Center, National Chengchi University
Discussant: Dr. Sophia Yu 余小云 Associate Professor Department of Administrative Management, Chinese Culture University

Itinerary:

10:00 – 10:10 Opening remarks by Dr. Eric Yu
10:10 – 11:00 “Anything but Shock Therapy: Comparing Democratic Transition and Consolidation in Mexico and Taiwan”
11:00 – 11:25 Comments by Dr. Sophia Yu
11:25 – 12:00 Open discussion with the audience

Please note that this event will be conducted entirely in English.

Mexico and Taiwan are cases of transitions from institutional authoritarianism to electoral democracy. The opposition victories in 2000 were the result of a lengthy process of unraveling of a single party domination. How did these processes happen? What were the central features of them? This paper discusses these two experiences search for lessons in democracy promotion in the context of one-party dominant regime.

TAIWAN FOUNDATION
for DEMOCRACY

財團法人臺灣民主基金會

106 台北市信義路三段 147 巷 17 弄 4 號

電話：2708-0100

傳真：2708-1148

tfd@taiwandemocracy.org.tw

RSVP

Please RSVP by Monday, December 07, 2009

Date: Tuesday, December 08, 2009
Time: 10:00 – 12:00
Location: Taiwan Foundation for Democracy (No 4, Alley
17, Lane 147, Xinyi Rd Sec 3, Taipei 106 Taiwan)

Mr./Ms. _____
Organization _____

Tel. _____
Title _____

- Will attend
- Unable to attend

Contact Person: Mr. Ben Hlavaty 何哲明, program officer

Email: ben@taiwandemocracy.org.tw

Telephone: (02) 2708-0100 ext. 132

Fax: (02) 2708-1148